

Pronto Xi ERP Software for Distribution

Increase control, visibility and efficiency for your Distribution Operations.

TOP TEN REASONS TO SELECT PRONTO XI

Distribution & Warehouse efficiency at every turn.

Traditionally distribution companies were sales-driven organizations that focused on closure of the next big deal. Even with limited information, these organizations would thrive using general industry insight to propel their position against competitors. Today market complexity has altered wholesaler-distributors to become savvy analysts that take into consideration a wider variety of factors to satisfy customers with rising delivery expectations.

Pronto Xi ERP Software provides the tools to measure critical financial, sales, and inventory key performance indicators (KPIs), as well as providing advanced efficiency in warehousing, supply chain management and sales.

Top Ten Reasons to choose Pronto Xi for Distribution.

Distributors looking for a comprehensive ERP solution should take a close look at Pronto Xi ERP Software for these and the many additional benefits it offers:

1

Reap the benefits of paperless warehouse options.

A streamlined warehouse doesn't just improve efficiency, it also provides additional benefits in cost reductions, employee job satisfaction, faster operator training and more. Pronto Xi provides state-of-the-art paperless warehouse options to improve warehouse operations using RF Scanning and Voice Enabled Warehouse options. Both tools are fully integrated and provide significant improvements in warehouse performance. For example, our clients have reported productivity increases of up to 22% and 100% platform user acceptance by operators after implementation of voice enabled warehouse.

A quicker return-on-investment (ROI).

A rapid deployment and low total cost of ownership (TCO) allow Pronto Xi to deliver a quick ROI without compromising functionality. Comparable to Tier 1 and Tier 2 ERP software products, Pronto Xi is a feature rich solution with functional depth and range that is typically only achieved through large investment. Pronto Xi provides the functionality you need, but at a lower total cost to achieve a timely ROI.

Best-in-class picking accuracy.

Delivery excellence; punctual, accurate and fast delivery of goods are a clear path to increased customer satisfaction. Pronto Xi ERP Software supports discrete, batch, zone and wave picking with optimized path routing to maximize order throughput and improve customer delivery. Pick optimization combined with RF and voice enabled warehouse have yielded best-in-class accuracy rates of 99.98%.

Flexible inventory storage.

Pronto Xi warehouse locations are specified in a three dimensional, coordinated system, giving total flexibility in warehouse layouts. The full featured Warehouse Management System provides multiple warehouses, multiple storage locations per items and user-defined location types that include Carton Live Storage (CLS), carousel and manual pick locations.

Capture the true cost of goods sold (COGS).

Pronto Xi ensures that distribution and landed costs are captured into the cost of goods for improved pricing and margin calculations. Shipment Processing can allocate costs across multiple orders that are combined in a single shipment. Pronto Xi supports Standard, Average, First-In-First-Out (FIFO) costing and Actual costing techniques for foreign shipments. Charges incurred in the shipment process can be automatically recorded and incorporated into revised average and landed costs.

Increase order fill rates by always meeting demand.

Maintaining optimum inventory levels to meet demand doesn't have to be a challenge. Pronto Xi includes advanced forecasting and intelligent inventory top-up routines to replenish warehouse goods to ensure stock is always on hand to fill orders. Graphical advanced forecasting provides exception, seasonal demand, and trend handling. Replenishment can be automatically or manually generated with batch, staging, queueing and forced replenishment options.

Visibility across the supply chain and warehouse network.

Pronto Xi distribution requirements planning (DRP) provides a time-phased distribution plan with the same level of visibility across the most complex network of warehouses, distribution centers and suppliers. DRP results in accurate planning for increases in sales and inventory turnover and decreases in costs through optimized inventory levels. Coupled with PSA's Requisition Approval Processing System (RAPS) for controlled spending that matches approval hierarchies to the most complex business processes, Pronto Xi becomes an even more powerful supply chain tool.

8

Boost sales with integrated e-Commerce, Mobile Sales and Point-of-Sale.

Pronto Xi includes multiple tools to enhance sales performance.

Pronto Xi's integrated e-commerce solution provides an out-of-the-box online store with customizable templates to create elegant and intuitive shopping experiences. Complete with a retail promotions engine, Pronto Xi accesses full product catalogs and pricing information available directly from the ERP.

Mobile Sales allows field sales professionals to close deals faster with anytime-anywhere order creation that respects business rules like credit limits and restrictions.

Have a retail counter? Pronto Xi also has fully integrated Point-of-Sale (POS) functionality with customizable skins.

9

Powerful business intelligence.

In addition to providing sophisticated KPI reporting and dashboards (both in the office and on-the-road) through integrated IBM Cognos, Pronto Xi offers smart insight into processes through alert, task and data intelligence. Workers are provided with queues and event information to improve visibility and promote smart, quick decisions and actions.

Want quick access to BI? Pronto Xi includes extensive libraries of out-of-the-box analytics content - reports, dashboards, and cubes.

Reduce costs through increased efficiency with a single fully integrated solution.

Fully integrated Pronto Xi modules translate into the seamless management of your distribution activities. With Pronto Xi's extensive core functionality that is built into the application, there is no need for add-ons or interfaces. Pronto Xi takes care of your distribution needs in a single solution.

Comprehensive Distribution Management

Pronto Xi ERP Software's fully-integrated and comprehensive solution provides tools for complete management of your distribution company.
